New accessories for Indian Chief models

D-Breisach, 21st March 2023 A wide range of accessories designed specifically for Indian Chief models has been offered by the German accessories manufacturer since last year and is constantly being expanded with new custom parts. So, also now in a further round.

So that the WUNDERKIND-Custom mirrors and also other accessory mirrors can be mounted below the brake and clutch armature, special clamps for the armatures have been designed for this purpose, which have a downward-facing bracket for a M10x1.25 mirror thread. The surface finish of these clamps has been adapted to the finish of the original fitting, so it seems as if they are from the motorcycle manufacturer itself. The left clamp also has a switch with which, for example, a Jekyll & Hyde flap exhaust system can be attached, if necessary.

For the frame triangle at the steering head, there is now a precisely fitting cover that conceals the openly routed cables from both sides. And that it visually matches the cover of the engine, the design and finish have been matched accordingly.

Particularly noteworthy is the newly developed cover for the engine. On the one hand, the cover is intended to enhance the front area of the engine visually. On the other hand, it is intended to protect sensitive areas. A special mounting kit is supplied for the installation of the cover.

New parts were again developed to further embellish the rear. A reflector, which was adapted to the shape of the original rear fender, can be exchanged against the original and easily mounted below the end of the fender by using the enclosed mounting kit. This way, the reflector is nicely integrated into the rounded shape of the fender.

And so that the inexpensive cover for the belt run also has a high-quality alternative, a new part has been developed for this purpose which can be easily replaced against the original.

The new accessories have been developed in-house as usual, are made of high-quality materials and tested internally to ensure the highest standards of quality and safety. All custom parts comply with the StVO or have a parts certificate.
