WUNDERKIND-Custom parts now also for BMW R18

D-Breisach, 23rd April 2021 As the new BMW R18 does not have a Bobber seat from the factory, WUNDERKIND-Custom took this as an opportunity to develop independent accessories for a BMW motorbike, for the first time.

The southern German accessories manufacturer used his gained experience in the construction of complete Bobber rear conversions for various motorcycle models and developed an independent conversion kit for the new BMW R18. It includes an adjustable Bobber seat, frame covers milled from the solid, a handmade two-millimeter steel fender as well as fenderstruts with integrated 3-1 LED turn signal-tail light combination. In addition, a side license plate holder was also created which is unique on the market due to its adjustability. If that is not enough, you can add grippy replacement foot pegs and adjustable levers in a matching design.

And for an even cleaner look and the right sound, WUNDERKIND-Custom gave their latest project bike a beautiful, adjustable flap exhaust system from the specialist 'Jekyll and Hyde'.

Summarized it can be said that the motorcycle not only looks more 'rock-like' after the conversion. It also offers increased seating comfort without making compromises concerning the lean angle clearance.

All WUNDERKIND custom parts are developed at the southern German location in Breisach and comply with the German road traffic regulation 'StVzo' or have a homologation paper.
